

HEAR YE!! HEAR YE!!

Professor Paul H. Trattner

"Professed Artist of Legerdemain"

Pays his respectful compliments to the ladies and gentlemen of The Mid-Atlantic States, and begs leave to inform them, that he is presently available to demonstrate his
"Curious and Innocent Diversions for Parlor and Refined Gatherings"

These presentations are based on the magical deceptions of itinerant performers circa 1750 through 1860. Professor Trattner also makes presentations on the Art of silhouette cutting and the science of Phrenology.

- "The closer you watch the less you see!!!" R.J.
- "I never knew magic had such an historical presence." T.L.
- "I couldn't believe my eyes. This must be real magic!!" K.C.

Professor Trattner has amazed, amused, and astounded audiences throughout the Colonies. Recently he has performed for the Maryland Historical Society, the Ellicott City Founders Day celebration, the Battle of North Point Reenactment, Montpelier Colonial Day Celebration, the Hampton Mansion and Fort McHenry.

Professor Trattner's presentations are filled with historical facts, anecdotes, and plenty of audience participation.

- "Professor Trattner's wit and subtle style is enjoyed by young and adult audiences alike." B.T.

Prof. Paul H. Trattner
2221 Clove Terrace • Baltimore, MD 21209
410-664-6240

www.ProfessorTrattner.com e-mail: itsmagic@earthlink.net